

FIGURE 224-1 The malaria transmission cycle from mosquito to human and targets of immunity. In P. vivax and P. ovale infections some liver stage parasites remain dormant ("hypnozoites"), and awake weeks or months later to cause relapses. RBC, red blood cell.